FOR BUSY BUSINESS OWNERS

Your business control centre. In your pocket.

From your accounts to your diary -
and the important things in between.

Keep Sage and the tools you rely on. Our aim is one place to see what matters across them, so you spend less time jumping between apps.

YOUR WORKING DAY - ILLUSTRATIVE VIEW

WORK	€4,850 ready to invoice Completed-job example in the demo
DATES	Your van's next CVRT Planned reminder example
CUSTOMERS	Running behind? Planned update workflow / you approve

Built in Cork. In development. Public demos use fictional data.

YOUR EXISTING TOOLS. A CLEARER VIEW.

Keep Sage.
Bring the picture together.

Kintreo is not intended to replace Sage, Xero or your bookkeeper. It is being built as a control centre above the tools you already use.

One place to start the day

Instead of opening accounts, a job app, a calendar and messages just to find out what needs attention, the aim is one prioritised view of the work, money and dates that matter.

Keep the systems that do the job

Your accounting software remains the home of your accounts. Your job and diary tools can remain in place. Kintreo is intended to bring relevant information together through supported, authorised connections.

Open the detail when you need it

See the priority, understand why it has appeared and drill into its supporting records. Where an action belongs in the original system, the aim is to take you to the right place with less searching.

One place to understand and coordinate the business. Coverage depends on supported integrations; this does not mean every app or every action will be available inside Kintreo.

A PRACTICAL WORKING DAY

Less app switching. Fewer loose ends.

These examples show how the intended control centre fits a busy trades or service business. Current public demonstrations are fictional.

Work completed - money still to invoice

See completed jobs waiting for an invoice and review the customer and amount. The demo illustrates the next step without writing to accounting software.

Money owed - bills approaching

Bring overdue customer balances and upcoming supplier bills into the same working picture, with the records behind each item available for review.

Diary, CVRT and renewal dates

The planned view brings appointments and dates you record alongside business priorities. Vehicle CVRT reminders and wider calendar connections are intended capabilities.

Running late - keep the customer informed

The planned workflow identifies affected appointments and prepares revised times and customer messages. You review and approve the recipient and message before any supported send.

SAVE TIME. REDUCE AVOIDABLE COST.

More time running your business.

The intended value is simple: spend less time finding information and repeating admin, leaving more time for customers, work and decisions.

Less searching and re-keying

Supported connections are intended to reduce the need to check several apps or copy the same information between them. The source and freshness of information should remain visible.

A shared picture with your bookkeeper

With your permission, your bookkeeper can review relevant priorities and supporting records through Practice. The aim is fewer vague queries and clearer requests for what is missing.

Measure the time saved

For illustration only: saving 15 minutes on each of 20 working days would free five hours a month. At an assumed time value of €30 an hour, that is €150 of capacity - not guaranteed cash savings.

Keep the tools that earn their place

Kintreo is designed to complement existing software. Any future reduction in duplicate subscriptions depends on your workflow and supported capabilities; cancelling essential accounting tools is not the proposition.

Time savings, cost savings and customer outcomes have not yet been verified. The pilot will test them against the way each business works today.

EXPLORE THE IDEA. HELP SHAPE THE PRODUCT.

See the direction. Try the demo.

Explore today

The public demo uses fictional data. Explore jobs, invoices, bills, renewal examples and guided answers. Review simulated invoice drafts and reminder previews.

What we are building towards

A connected view of accounts, jobs, diary, customers and important dates. Wider calendar tools, CVRT reminders and reviewed customer-delay messages remain planned.

A controlled pilot

Live access depends on tested connections, client permissions, security and agreed onboarding. Available functions will be confirmed before you join. Demo actions do not send messages, file returns or change accounting records.

Business: indicative pricing from €59 per month, excluding VAT where applicable. Subject to change. Registration creates no subscription.
